

SQUEEZE OUTS

89 WAYS BUSINESS ASSOCIATES ARE SQUEEZED OUT (and how to protect yourself)

- Deliberately 'milking' a closely held company to reduce the earnings of an unwanted shareholder (see page 20).
- Tricks with quorums, agendas and proxies that majority shareholders almost always get away with. (If minority goes to court, judicial relief will have little permanent effect. See page 11.)
- Elimination of shareholder/officers whose jobs are protected by employment contracts. (The first step is to fire them anyway. See page 49.)
- Phantom mergers and bankruptcies. Nothing really changes except that disruptive associates are gone. (Pages 63 and 81.)
